Coming soon

Adult Learning Essentials

This course introduces essential principles of adult education and applies them to adult learning programs, settings and activities. You will learn about the impact of learning styles, memory, adult learning principles and adult learning environments.

eLearning Essentials eLearning is more than an online module produced by an authoring tool – it includes webinars, social and collaborative learning, self guided learning and more. This online course will model best practice as you work your way through the learning process, engaging with the content, the trainer and other participants.

Training Room Essentials

In this course you'll learn about creating the learning environment, writing your program to ensure engagement, tools of the trade and how to evaluate what you've done. You'll walk away with a kit of examples and equipment ideas that will make sure that your training has an impact on the participants and the business.

L&D Project Management MasterClass

Program co-ordination, project and program management are common roles and also a commonly required skill set within training, learning and development. This course covers all key facets of this important area of work as it applies to learning and development professionals.

More Opportunities

Mentoring Program

AITD's Mentoring Program brings together experienced and successful professionals with AITD members who are looking to develop their skills and careers. In late 2015 AITD will be seeking applicants for the 2016 Mentoring program nationally.

Communities of Practice

Coming Soon – online Communities of Practice where AITD members can pose questions, contribute to discussions and share information and advice relating to the particular group's focus. Each community will have a moderator with expertise and experience to facilitate the dialogue.

The National Conversation

AITD is holding a national conversation linked to the themes of Training and Development magazine. Every two months local events are held in various locations offering networking opportunities as well as a space to discuss trending topics in training, learning and development. Join a local event, engage online in the LinkedIn discussion group or join the Twitter conversation @aitd1. Visit the AITD website for details.
