

Bringing Together Learning and Development Professionals in Coffs Harbour on 26 October

Australian Institute of Training and Development

The Australian Institute of Training and Development (AITD) is calling on learning and development professionals on the Coffs Harbour coast to come together for an evening of networking on Wednesday, 26 October 2016 at Opal Cove Resort in Coffs Harbour.

This free networking event will appeal to trainers, educators, consultants, coaches, course coordinators, course designers, mentors, instructors, teachers, facilitators, or those involved in the Vocational Education and Training (VET) industry. The informal event will give people the opportunity to make contact with other like-minded, local and regional practitioners as well as learn more about AITD.

“There is a lot of VET activity in the Coffs Harbour and Mid-North Coast region. We are looking at holding this informal networking night to provide the opportunity for people to establish local connections, but also to gauge their thoughts on how AITD may contribute to the VET profession in the region.” AITD CEO Elizabeth Robinson

This is a free event, canapés will be provided. Attendees can purchase drinks at the venue.
