The role of Royal Australian Infantry Corps

Seek out and close with the enemy,
to kill or capture him,
to seize and hold ground,
and to repel attack by day or night,
regardless of season, weather or terrain.

The juice isn't always worth the squeeze..

Or is it?

The outcome doesn't always have to dictate success, sometimes it merely lays the path.

Is trying your best really good enough?

Standards are not for assessment purposes...

They are to be lived by..

Failure should be your training partner..

A horizontal gradient of colors from orange to blue on a dark background. The colors transition from a warm orange on the left, through yellow and green, to a cool blue on the right. The background is dark and textured, resembling a night sky or a dark surface with light reflecting off it.

One final thought...

If you train hard, you will fight easy..
